When he, who adores thee.

When he who adores thee has left but the name of his fault and his sorrows behind.
Oh, say wilt thou weep, when they darken the fame of a life that for thee was resigned.
Yes, weep, and however my foes may condemn,
Thy tears shall efface their decree,

For heaven can witness though guilty to them,
I have been but too faithful to thee.

With thee were the dreams of my earliest love,
Every thought of my reason was thine.
In my last humble prayer to the spirit above,
Thy Name shall be mingled with mine,
Oh, blest are the lovers and friends who shall live,
The days of thy glory too see,
But the next dearest blessing that heaven can give,
Is the pride of thus dying for thee.

117

The Sailors Farewell

Remember thee my loved one - yes
So long as life and memory last,
Though absent could I love thee less
Or cherish less the blissful past.

O, no; believe me though I roam,
From clime to clime, from sea to sea,
My heart dwells with my happy home,
My thoughts and wishes all with thee.

Tis vain that destiny thus strives,
A faith like mine to change or break,
From absence it more strength derives,
And trials more devotion wake.

Flow aft as in the stilly night,
Our Ship glides through the trackless sea,
I gaze upon the moons soft light,
And think, mayhap, his seen by thee.

That thought endears each lucid ray,
And wakes new beauties to my eye,
For O, thy gentle heart then may Re-echo to my lonely sigh.

A heart as soft, A heart as kind,
A heart as sound and free,
As in the whole world thou canst find that heart I'll give to thee.

To Miss [GREEN?]
I must on that lip for a minute have gaz,d [GAZED]
But A thousand temptations beset me,
And I've thought, as the dear little rubies you rais,d [RAISED]
How delicious would be if you,d [YOU'D] let me,

Then be not so angry for what I have done
Nor say that you,ve [YOU'VE] sworn to forget me
They were binds of temptation too [PARTING?] to shun
And I thought that you could not but let me,

When your lip with a whisper came close to my cheek.
Oh think how bewitching it met me,
And plain as the eye of a Venus could speak, your eye seem,d [SEEMED] to nay you would let me,

Then forgive the transgression and bid me remain
For in truth, of I go you,ll [YOU'LL] regret me,
Or, oh, let me toy the transgression again
And i,ll, [I'LL] do all you wish will you let me

As slow our ship

As slow our ship her foamy track
Against the wind was cleaving
Her trembling pennant still look,d [LOOKED] back To that dear Isle twas leaving,
So lothe we part from all we love
From all the links that bind us,
So turn our hearts where er we rove
To those we,ve, [WE'VE] left behind us.

When round the bowl of vanish,d [VANISHED] years.
We talk with joyous seeming with smiles that might as well be tears
So faint, so sad their beaming
While memory brings us back again
Each early tie that twind us,
Oh sweets the cup that circles then,
To those we,ve [WE'VE] left behind us.

And when in other climes, we meet some isle, or vale enchanting where all look flowry wild sweet And naught but love is wanting
How great, we think, had been our bliss
If heaven had but assignd [ASSIGNED] us,
To live and die in scenes like this with some we,ve [WE'VE] left behind us.

So, when the close of pleasures, day
To gloom hath near consign,d [CONSIGNED] us,
We turn to catch one fading ray of joy thats left behind us.

The Recall

Come home these is a surrounding breath
In music since we went
And the early flower scents wander by
With mournful memories blent, [CROSSED OUT]
The sounds of every household voice
Are grown more sad and deep
And the sweet word, Brother, wakes a wish
To turn aside and weep.

O ye beloved come home; the hour;
Of many a greeting tone
The time of herth, light and of song,
Returns and ye are gone;
And darkly heavily it falls
On the forsaken room,
Burdening the heart with tenderness.
That deepens midst the gloom, where find it you our wanderings ones, with all your boyhoods, glee,

Untamed beneath the deserts palm,
Or on the lone mid sea,
Mid stormy hills of battles old
Or where dark rivers foam
Oh; life is dim where youre not Back ye beloved come home,

Come with the leaves and winds of spring
And swift birds o,er [OVER] the main
Our love is grown too sorrowful,
Bring us its youth again
Bring the glad tones to music back still, still your home is [FREE?]
The spirit of your sunny life
Alone is wanting there;

The River Themes

River; that in silence windest
Through the meadows bright and free,

Till at length thy rest there findest
In the bosom of the sea.

Five long years of mingled feeling,
Half in rest and half in strife
I have seen thy water stealing
Onward, like the stream of life,

Thou hast taught me, silent river,
Many a lesson deep and long;
Thou hast been a generous giver,
I can give thee but a song.

Oft in sadness and in brightness,
I have watched thy current glide,
Till the beauty of its stillness.
Overflowed me, like a tide.

And in better hours and brighter, when I saw thy waters gleam,
I have felt my heart beat lighter
And leap onward with thy stream;

Not for this alone I love thee,
Nor because [BECAUSE] thy waves of blue
From celestial seas above thee
Take their own celestial hue.

Where yon shadowy woodland hides thee,
And thy waters disappear,
Friends I love now dwell beside thee
And do make thy margin dear.

Friends my soul with joy remembers.
And like quivering flames thy start, when I fan the living embers
On the hearth stone of my heart.
A cross

Girl thou art fair but coldly so,
Thy smile is chiselled out of stone;
Thy features have no gentle glow,
And seem no fire of love to own;

Others may woo, and if they choose.
May bend in homage unto thee;
But my proud heart will still refuse,
And stand erect my stubborn knee,

A wife should be a comforter;
Couldst thou be such my heart might warm,
A husband's heart should turn to her.
And deem his rainbow of lifes storm,

She should be mid his sorrows dark,
Or when those sorrows had decreased, a dove, whose olive bunch would mark,
A deluge stopped, a tempest ceased,

Couldst thou be such hai lights thine eye;
Has melting love then found a seat?
Thy beast is in thy cheek, subdued,
Behold me kneeling at thy feet.

Tis for this, thou silent river;
That my spirit leans to thee,
Thou hast been a generous giver.
Take this idle song from me.

Sympathy sincerity and love constitute real or true friendship and a forgiving disposition is necessary to its perpetuity [???] is with practicaio piety and it forms a wreath which should be placed upon the alter of every mind, though fair and delicate it should flourish amid the rough blasts of life as beneath the bowers of happiness it may be watered by tears and even chilled with the blight of sorrow yet its buds will expand and its exquisite blossoms unfold into beauty amid the frosts of adversity. Bestills the rough surges of sorrow --and the mourners eye is gladdened by its beautiful colours of peace. O'er the turmoil of life it's regalia is spread; while its influence scatters the [??]
